> P+R OLYMPISCH STADION PARKING FACILITIES

How does Park and Ride work?

P+R is easy. Without having to drive around for hours looking for a parking place, you park your car and then take the tram, bus, metro or train into the City.

Amsterdam offers several parking locations that charge € 6.00 per 24 hours. Closest to our hotel is P+R Olympisch Stadion (address : Olympisch stadion 44).

P+R rules

Take a parking card at the entrance.

Do not use a credit card at the entrance, as this will not entitle you to a discount.

Give your parking card to the attendant and ask for the discount.

The discount rate of € 6.00 per 24 hours is valid for a maximum of four consecutive days, or 96 hours. After 96 hours, the discount will become void, and you will have to pay the normal parking rate.

The attendant will provide you with up to two return tickets for the train (NS) or tram/bus/metro (GVB). Make sure to stamp your GVB ticket on your journey into the City as well as on your way back to the car park.

NS train tickets are already pre-stamped with the day's date.

Visit the City. Make sure to keep all your tickets!

If you do not use your train/tram/bus/metro tickets, or do not stamp them correctly, the discount will become void. You must then pay the standard rate.

GVB tickets are valid for a maximum of 96 hours. The NS tickets are valid up until 04.00 on the night following the day on the date stamp.

Give your parking card and NS or GVB tickets to the attendant at the desk. You can pay using a bankcard with PIN number or credit card. Cash payments are only possible at the ticket machine.
